Lyrics:
 In France, it's called a crêpe; In Chi-na, they're called Moo Shu; In Eth - i - o - pi - a, it doub-les as a plate, and they use it to eat with, too. There's Mex-i-can tor-til-las, lat - kes in Is-ra-el; in Den-mark, they're called ("pa-neh- kay- ehr") pan-de - kā - ger; And just a-bout ev - 'ry - where a - round the world, you'll find some kind of pan - cake there.

(Chorus:)

Chords: C G C *C G C *C G C

Lyrics:
 All ov - er this world, All ov - er this world;
 Peo-ple are a-like, but the not the same; All ov - er this world.
 (last x:) We all share the hope for peace;

(Verse 2:)

I have always been amazed, wherever I do roam
 There's always alot that's new to me, and so much that makes me feel at home
 We speak different words, we sing different songs, we have different religions and races
 But we share so many hopes and dreams, 'though we come from different places (Chorus)

(Verse 3 - revised:)

In Hebrew, they say "shalom"; In Arabic, they say "salaam"
 "Paz" is the word in Spanish, and it's "hoa binh" in Viet Nam.
 These words of peace in every land, they make such a beautiful sound
 And we all share the hope for peace, this whole wide world around (Chorus - repeat)

Note: The chorus can be sung as a round in 2 or 4 parts.

Entry points for the round are marked with *

The alternate lyrics are intended for the final chorus.
